Project Overview

Client: Alliance Catering
Completed: Concept Design
Value: $2,442,000.00

PSA were engaged as the Architects to prepare a concept design for a new dining hall for the University of New England. It involved alterations and additions to an existing building. The design intent was to create a multi-faceted dining experience for the students at the university, whilst also creating a new use for a building lacking purpose. The design included multiple zones each with a different purpose. The design creates a variety of atmospheres, allowing it to cater for many different students and their needs.
